PROFILE

Learning experience designer with 10+ years turning complex technical material into learning people finish and use. Authored 7 published Coursera courses reaching 30,630+ learners, owning each end to end from objectives through content, assessment, and iteration. Grounded in adult-learning principles and Bloom's-aligned design, with practical AI-tooling proficiency. M.S. Music Technology, Georgia Tech.

EXPERIENCE

Computer Science Curriculum Developer, Codio, Remote

June 2021 - June 2026

- Authored 7 published Coursera courses reaching 30,630+ learners, including Container Creation and Orchestration Basics (2,300+ enrolled), CI/CD for Software Developers, DevOps, Intro to Operating Systems, Unix System Basics, Bash Scripting and System Configuration, and Data Security for Web Developers, with publicly verifiable instructor credit.
- Designed and managed the Summer Creative Coding Intensive for two years (2022 and 2023), a cohort program pairing Python programming with game development in Pygame for high school juniors through college freshmen, culminating in group projects and capstone presentations.
- Authored CS curriculum well beyond the published catalog, spanning systems and DevOps, Python and Pygame game development, AI/LLM and Azure ML, web security, and creative coding (EarSketch), for K-12 through college and self-paced learners.
- Defined action-based learning objectives and authored end-to-end online CS courses and specializations across K-12, university, and self-paced levels.
- Built formative and summative assessments to evaluate learner progress across full course sequences.
- Created interactive graphic concept representations for difficult topics such as operating systems and container orchestration, making abstract systems accessible to learners at varied levels.

Workshop Facilitator & Panelist (Contract), Georgia Institute of Technology, Atlanta, GA

2023 - Present

- Lead annual hands-on EarSketch and music-technology coding workshops for high school students at Georgia Tech, introducing computer science through music creation.
- Serve on student panels, sharing pathways into computing and music technology and answering questions about careers in the field.

Program Manager, Amazon Music, Atlanta, GA

December 2021 - May 2023

- Led the Audio Quality and Hardware Compatibility programs for Amazon's Amp, a live audio streaming app, across 50+ device combinations and 1,200+ test scenarios.
- Stood up an Audio Hardware Testing Lab from scratch with security and facilities partners and documented its operating procedures.
- Managed the team defining objective measures of perceived audio quality used across releases.

STEAM Curriculum Integration Specialist, CEISMC, Georgia Institute of Technology, Atlanta, GA

June 2019 - November 2021

- Built project-based curriculum integrating computer science, visual arts, audio-video technology, and music standards.
- Co-taught and implemented integrated, standards-aligned lessons alongside classroom teachers.

Lead Teaching Assistant, Georgia Institute of Technology, Atlanta, GA

May 2019 - August 2019

- Led a cohort of teaching assistants for two music and technology courses; tutored students and maintained grade records.
